DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102/103

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

Claims 1-16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as anticipated by or, in the alternative, under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as obvious over Podrazhansky et al. [U.S. 6,366,056].

With respect to claim 7, Podrazhansky discloses a lithium ion secondary battery system comprising: a lithium ion secondary battery [Fig. 2, battery 111; col. 3 lines 1-6]; and a control unit [Fig. 2, controller 113] which carries out an intermittent power feeding in which a power feeding and a pause are repeatedly executed [col. 3 lines 7-24; col. 6 lines 45-54], when a lithium ion secondary battery is discharged with not less than a predetermined discharge rate [col. 7 lines 1-10; col. 7 lines 50-55; col. 8 lines 31-34], and wherein said control unit executes said pause for a period not less than the period required for the voltage of the lithium ion secondary battery to restore up to not less than 70% of an open circuit voltage [inherently disclosed at col. 7 lines 32-46; rest periods are not fixed, they may be varied as desired, as well as on charging conditions. A battery will recover its full OCV in the 2-6 milliseconds cited, “depending on the ability of the anode to absorb the lithium”].

It is clear that Podrazhansky anticipates all ranges of OCV by the battery during the rest periods. However, where such anticipation is not agreed with, one of ordinary skill in the art would certainly use the disclosure at col. 7 lines 32-35 to perform routine experimentation on the rest periods in order to come up with an optimized value of OCV, such as recited, for the benefit of enhancing the periodic charging pulses themselves, as disclosed in col. 6 lines 58-67 and col. 7 lines 1-30.

Art Unit: 2838

Where the general conditions of a claim are disclosed in the prior art, it is not inventive to discover the optimum or workable ranges by routine experimentation. In re Swain et al., 33 CCPA (Patents) 1250, 156 F.2d 239, 70 USPQ 412; Minnesota Mining and Mfg. Co. v. Coe, 69 App. D.C. 217, 99 F.2d 986, 38 USPQ 213; Allen et al. v. Coe, 77 App. D.C. 324, 135 F.2d 11, 57 USPQ 136.

With respect to claims 8-12 and 15-16 Podrazhansky discloses all limitations either expressly, or implicitly. Refer to the disclosure at Fig. 1, with accompanying descriptions at [col. 6 lines 57-67, col. 7 lines 1-15, 25-30, 32-35, 47-61; col. 8 lines 1-12, 17-20, 30-34, 40-44; col. 9 lines 11-30, 40-56; col. 10 lines 9-12, 57-62; col. 11 lines 1-5; col. 12 lines 6-33 and 47-48].

With respect to method claims 1-6 and 13-14; these are identical to the system claims above and are rejected similarly. Podrazhansky specifies the method in [col. 3 line 3].

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed 01/05/2009 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. All arguments with respect to the amendments are addressed in the action above.

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
